90-Day Launch Plan, Category Master List & Research Brief

India · Dogs & Cats Only

What's inside

- A review of the existing three-month plan — what works, and seven things to fix
- The complete category master list: 28 categories for dogs and cats in India, with 12 additions to the original 16
- A category scorecard — order value, commission, competition and priority tier
- Deep dives on the ten categories that will actually earn
- Seven audience personas and a bank of 48 tested hook formats
- The full 90-day calendar: 13 weeks, mapped day by day, Day 1 to Day 91
- Affiliate programs and commission rates in India, with the monetisation maths
- Disclosure and compliance rules, realistic KPIs, and the seasonality calendar
- Five research deliverables with deadlines and the tools to produce them

The plan, reviewed

The cadence in the existing plan is realistic for one person and the ramp from broad to focused is the right shape. Below is the plan as it stands, then seven gaps worth closing before Day 1.

THE PLAN AS SUBMITTED

PHASE	WINDOW	BLOG	REELS	SHORTS	LONG-FORM	FOCUS
Month 1	Days 1–35 (Wk 1–5)	3 blogs/wk (Mon-Wed-Fri)	4 Reels/wk	2 Shorts/wk (Tue-Thu)	—	Cast a wide net. Publish 15 posts. Find which categories and hooks stick.
Month 2	Days 36–63 (Wk 6–9)	2 blogs/wk (Mon-Thu)	5 Reels/wk	2 Shorts/wk (Tue-Thu)	1 long video / 2 wks	Double down on Month-1 winners. Move into higher-value categories.
Month 3	Days 64–91 (Wk 10–13)	2 blogs/wk (Mon-Thu)	5 Reels/wk + Sunday roundup	2 Shorts/wk (Tue-Thu)	1 long video / 2 wks	Authority + high-AOV categories. Sunday roundup Reel of top-performing products.

ONE STRUCTURAL CHANGE TO NOTE

Thirty days does not divide into calendar weeks, and switching cadence mid-week breaks the batching rhythm that makes this workload survivable. So the calendar in this document runs Month-1 cadence for five weeks (Days 1–35), Month-2 cadence for four weeks (Days 36–63) and Month-3 cadence for four weeks (Days 64–91). Day 30, Day 60 and Day 90 are all marked in place so nothing is lost against the original brief — and the extra Month-1 week is precisely what makes the 15–20 post target reachable.

SEVEN GAPS TO CLOSE

01 The Month-1 blog maths doesn't reach 15–20 posts

Mon/Wed/Fri for four weeks is 12 posts, not 15–20. Three posts a week only reaches 15 at the end of week five.

FIX Two changes. (1) Run the Month-1 cadence for five weeks instead of four, which lands exactly on 15 posts by Day 35. (2) Add a pre-launch week (Week 0) where five cornerstone posts are written and published on Day 1, so the site never looks empty to a first-time visitor. Together that is 20 posts by Day 35, which is the top of the stated target.

02 Month-3 'organic search traffic' is 4–6 months early

A 60-day-old domain in the Indian pet niche will get very little Google traffic. Realistic timelines for a new site are 4–8 months to meaningful rankings, longer for commercial keywords like 'best dog food in India'.

FIX For the 90-day window, treat Pinterest, Instagram search and YouTube search as the traffic engine, and Google as the 6–12 month engine. Keep publishing SEO-structured posts — they compound — but do not set Month-3 KPIs against Google sessions. Set them against Reel saves, YouTube watch time and affiliate link clicks.

03 Pinterest is missing, and it is the fastest organic channel in this niche

Pinterest is a search engine, is heavily female-skewed (matching pet-parent purchase decisions), indexes new accounts in weeks rather than months, and every blog post already produces the assets a Pin needs.

FIX Add 5 Pins per blog post. Zero extra research, roughly 20 minutes per post. It costs nothing to test and is the single most likely source of the first ₹1,000 of commission.

04 No audience capture — every visitor is a one-time visitor

Affiliate income is fragile when 100% of traffic is rented from algorithms. There is no list in the current plan.

FIX Ship one lead magnet by Week 2 — 'New Puppy / New Kitten Shopping Checklist (PDF, with prices)'. Collect on WhatsApp (broadcast list or Channel) rather than email; in India, WhatsApp open rates massively outperform email for this audience.

05 No defined ratio of money pages to supporting pages

Commissions come from commercial-intent posts ('best X', 'X vs Y', 'X under ₹2,000'). Informational posts build topical authority but rarely convert. With no ratio defined, the calendar drifts toward whichever is easier to write.

FIX Month 1: 40% money pages / 60% supporting. Month 3: 60% money / 40% supporting. Every money page must name specific products, show a comparison table, and state a clear 'best for' verdict.

06 No repurposing rule, so every asset is researched from scratch

Three blogs, four Reels and two Shorts a week is nine original ideas per week if treated as nine separate jobs. That is the number-one reason solo content plans collapse in week three.

FIX One rule: every blog post is the parent asset. It becomes 2 Reels, 1 Short, 5 Pins, 1 carousel and 1 WhatsApp broadcast. Research once per week (three topics), produce nine assets. See the Repurposing Engine page.

07 No seasonality anchor

Pet buying in India is intensely seasonal — monsoon ticks and skin, summer cooling, Diwali noise anxiety, and the Great Indian Festival / Big Billion Days sale window which is the highest-earning three weeks of the affiliate year.

FIX Fix the launch date against the seasonality calendar in this document, and place the seasonal category in Week 9 so it lands inside its buying season. If the 90 days overlap late September to October, rewrite Weeks 9–12 around the sale events.

Category master list

Twenty-eight categories covering dogs and cats in the Indian market. The sixteen from the original handwritten list are all here — mostly with names tightened and sub-categories filled in. Twelve are new, marked in orange. The most important omission was food and nutrition, which is the single largest revenue pool in Indian pet care.

CORE CONSUMABLES — BOUGHT AGAIN EVERY MONTH

1	Dog Food & Nutrition DOG ADDED	Dry kibble; wet food & gravy pouches; puppy / adult / senior; breed-size specific; grain-free & limited-ingredient; veterinary & prescription diets; fresh / home-style subscriptions; toppers & broths

BOTH ADDED | Pet-parent apparel & merch; mugs & totes; custom pet portraits & photo gifts; birthday party kits; memorial & keepsake items; pet-themed home décor; adoption gift hampers |

THE HIGHEST-CONVERTING FORMAT ISN'T A CATEGORY

One more thing that is not a category but behaves like the highest-converting one: Starter Kits & Checklists. 'New Puppy Checklist', 'New Kitten Checklist', '₹5,000 Starter Setup', 'Monsoon Kit', 'Travel Kit'. These bundle 10–25 products into a single page, so one visitor can generate ten commissions instead of one, and they catch the buyer at the exact moment they have decided to spend and have no idea what to buy. Treat this as its own content format and revisit it every month.

Which categories actually sell

Every category scored on repeat-purchase rate, typical order value in India, realistic commission per sale, search competition and how easily the benefit can be shown on camera. Tiers indicate publishing priority, not category size.

READ THIS FIRST

The distinction that matters most: the best-selling categories and the best categories for a brand-new affiliate site are not the same list. Food, litter and treats sell the most — and are also where every established Indian pet site and quick-commerce app already competes. The fastest money for a 90-day-old site sits in categories with a visible, filmable before-and-after and low SEO competition: deshedding tools, slow feeders and lick mats, enzymatic odour cleaners, cat trees and scratchers, cooling mats, water fountains, GPS trackers and automatic feeders. Publish for both — Tier A for the compounding search asset, the visual quick-wins for revenue inside 90 days.

Order values are typical Indian online price bands, August 2026. "₹ per sale" spans the range between a percentage program (Amazon.in, 4.7% on pet products) and a flat-fee program (Supertails-style, ₹250–400 per qualifying new-customer order) — which is why the low end looks small and the high end does not.

TIER A — START HERE (WEEKS 1–8)

Highest combination of search demand, repeat purchase and content volume. These ten categories should carry roughly 70% of everything published in the first two months. Note that food is in Tier A on demand alone; it is the hardest to rank for and the most brand-loyal, so treat it as a long-term SEO investment rather than a source of quick commissions.

TIER B — EXPAND INTO (WEEKS 6–13)

Lower search volume but much lower competition and, in several cases, dramatically higher value per sale. Cat furniture, smart tech and self-cleaning litter boxes are where a single conversion is worth 20 toy sales. This is where a 90-day-old site can realistically win.

TIER C — FILL AND SEASONAL

Good for Reels and engagement, weak for search revenue. Use these to keep the social calendar full, to ride festive and seasonal spikes, and to feed the top of the funnel. Do not build cornerstone blog content here in the first 90 days.

The ten categories that will earn

For each: why it earns, who buys it, the moment that triggers the purchase, the search terms to target, three ready-to-use hooks, and the practical catch.

01 Cat Litter & Litter Boxes

WHY IT EARNS	The single highest repeat-purchase item in the entire cat category — bought every 3–5 weeks, forever. Cat ownership is the fastest-growing segment in urban India, and litter is the first problem every new cat parent has.
WHO BUYS	Women 20–35, metro and Tier-1, first cat within the last 12 months, living in a rented 1–2BHK. Highly reachable on Instagram, extremely price- and smell-sensitive.
BUYING TRIGGER	The flat smells. Litter is tracking across the floor. The cat has started going outside the box.
KEYWORDS	best cat litter india · tofu litter vs bentonite · cat litter smell solution · cheapest cat litter monthly cost · top entry litter box india · cat litter mat tracking
HOOKS	• Your house doesn't smell like cat. It smells like your litter choice. • I tried every litter sold in India. Here's the cost per month of each. • The 1-inch rule: why your ₹900 litter stops clumping.
THE CATCH	Cheap product, tiny percentage commission — but flat-fee programs pay the same ₹250–400 on a ₹900 litter order as on a ₹9,000 order. This category is where flat-fee affiliate programs beat percentage programs by 10x.

02 Grooming & Coat Care

WHY IT EARNS	The most filmable category in the niche. Deshedding, matt removal and nail trims produce satisfying before-and-after footage that carries on Reels and Shorts without any paid promotion. Indian double-coated breeds shed heavily year-round.
WHO BUYS	Dog parents 25–45 with Golden Retrievers, Labs, Huskies, Indies and Persians. Also budget-conscious parents trying to stop paying ₹1,200 per salon visit.
BUYING TRIGGER	Hair on every surface. Matted coat after monsoon. A ₹1,500 grooming bill. Visible skin irritation or itching.
KEYWORDS	best dog shampoo india · deshedding tool for golden retriever · dog grooming kit india price · dog smells bad after bath · how to trim dog nails at home · anti fungal shampoo dog monsoon
HOOKS	• This came off a Golden in ten minutes. • Stop paying ₹1,200 a visit. Here's the ₹2,400 kit that replaces it. • Human shampoo on a dog: what it actually does to their skin.
THE CATCH	Best entry category for a new account. Highest ratio of view volume to production effort, and it leads naturally into shampoo, tools, dryers and flea control — four categories from one shoot.

03 Dog Food & Nutrition

WHY IT EARNS	The biggest revenue pool in Indian pet care and the largest search volume of any category. Also the most competitive and the most brand-loyal. Commercial pet food penetration in India is still in single digits, so the category is growing fast.
WHO BUYS	Two distinct buyers: the anxious first-time puppy parent comparing brands for the first time, and the premium parent (household income ₹15L+) actively trading up to imported or fresh food.
BUYING TRIGGER	New puppy. Vet said switch. Loose stools. Dull coat. Price shock at the pet store.
KEYWORDS	best dog food in india · best puppy food india price · drools vs pedigree vs royal canin · dog food cost per month india · grain free dog food india · best dog food for indie dogs
HOOKS	• ₹18 a day versus ₹95 a day. Here's what actually changes. • 'Chicken flavour' is not chicken. Read the label with me. • What feeding an Indie dog actually costs per month.
THE CATCH	Write these posts for the long game — they will not rank in 90 days but they are the highest-value asset on the site by month eight. Avoid all medical claims; every food post gets a 'consult your vet' block.

04 Flea, Tick & Deworming

WHY IT EARNS	Acute, urgent, emotional pain point with a hard seasonal peak across the Indian monsoon. Buyers are in panic-purchase mode, which is the highest-converting mindset in affiliate marketing.
WHO BUYS	All dog parents, and increasingly cat parents. Strongest with parents of outdoor-walked dogs and community/Indie feeders. Skews slightly older and more male than the grooming audience.
BUYING TRIGGER	Found a tick. Dog scratching constantly. Ticks visible in the house. Vet mentioned tick fever.
KEYWORDS	best tick medicine for dogs india · tick fever dog symptoms · spot on vs tick collar · how to remove tick from dog · anti tick spray for home india · deworming schedule puppy india
HOOKS	• Found one tick? There are hundreds you can't see. Three-step reset. • The step everyone skips: you have to treat the house, not the dog. • Where ticks actually hide — check these five places tonight.
THE CATCH	This is a health-adjacent topic. Never give dosages, never name a prescription product as a recommendation, always route to a vet. Amazon pays 0% on prescription pet medication, so stick to over-the-counter products.

05 Cat Furniture & Scratchers

WHY IT EARNS	High order value (₹1,500–12,000), remarkably low SEO competition in India, and visually spectacular on Reels. A single cat tree conversion is worth twenty toy conversions.
WHO BUYS	Urban cat parents in rentals, 22–35. Strong overlap with interior-design and small-space content — which means the content also reaches an audience outside the pet niche.
BUYING TRIGGER	The cat is destroying the sofa. The cat is bored and vocal at 3am. Moving into a new flat.
KEYWORDS	cat tree india price · best scratching post for cats india · cat wall shelves diy · stop cat scratching sofa · cat furniture for small apartment · sisal vs cardboard scratcher
HOOKS	• Your cat isn't ruining the sofa. The scratcher is in the wrong place. • A full cat setup in a rental, no drilling. • I gave my cat vertical space. Her behaviour changed in a week.
THE CATCH	Best risk-adjusted category in the list for a new site: low competition, high value, high reel-ability. Prioritise in Weeks 8–10.

06 Home Cleaning, Odour & Stain

WHY IT EARNS	Almost no dedicated Indian pet content covers this well, yet it is a universal daily problem. Includes ₹8,000–30,000 pet-hair vacuums, which carry meaningful commission.
WHO BUYS	Every pet parent, but especially renters worried about deposits and multi-pet households. Also the pet-parent's family members, which widens the audience.
BUYING TRIGGER	Accident on the carpet. Visitor commented on the smell. Landlord inspection. Hair in the food.
KEYWORDS	pet urine smell remover india · enzymatic cleaner for pet urine · best vacuum for pet hair india · pet safe floor cleaner india · remove dog hair from sofa · cat pee smell on mattress
HOOKS	• Blacklight test: this is what your 'clean' floor looks like. • Regular floor cleaner doesn't remove pet urine. It hides it — and the cat re-marks the spot. • Three products and my flat stopped smelling like a pet shop.
THE CATCH	Extremely low competition, strong search intent, and an easy visual demo. Underrated — treat as a Tier A quick win.

07 Smart Pet Tech

WHY IT EARNS	Highest value per sale in the entire list. GPS trackers, treat-toss cameras, automatic feeders and self-cleaning litter boxes run ₹2,500 to ₹45,000. Almost no credible Indian review content exists.
WHO BUYS	Working professionals 26–40 who leave pets alone 8–10 hours, dual-income households, gadget-inclined, higher disposable income. Converts on demonstration, not on price.
BUYING TRIGGER	Going back to office. Pet alone all day. Pet escaped once. Travelling for work. Guilt.
KEYWORDS	best pet camera india · gps tracker for dogs india · airtag dog collar india · automatic cat feeder india · self cleaning litter box india price · smart water fountain for cats
HOOKS	• I left for eight hours and recorded everything. Here's what he did. • Does an AirTag actually work to find a lost dog in India? I tested it. • ₹40,000 litter box versus a ₹1,200 tray. Thirty days later.
THE CATCH	Requires you to actually own or borrow the device — you cannot fake this content and audiences detect it instantly. Budget for one hero device per month, or partner with a brand for a loaner.

08 Anxiety, Calming & Festive Noise

WHY IT EARNS	Sharply seasonal around Diwali and festival fireworks, with almost no competition and a highly emotional, urgent buyer. Also covers the year-round separation-anxiety audience.
WHO BUYS	Pet parents in dense urban areas, and specifically the large group of Indian pet parents who dread October. Also parents of newly adopted rescue dogs.
BUYING TRIGGER	Diwali is in three weeks. Dog hid under the bed all night. Neighbours complaining about barking. New rescue is shut down.
KEYWORDS	how to calm dog during diwali · fireworks anxiety dog india · pheromone diffuser for cats india · calming chews for dogs india · thundershirt india · separation anxiety dog training
HOOKS	• Diwali is three weeks away. Build the safe room now, not on the night. • Does a compression vest actually work? Two-week test. • Your dog isn't being dramatic. This is what fireworks sound like to them.
THE CATCH	Publish four weeks before the festival, not during. Be honest about what does not work — calming products have a high placebo rate and audiences reward the creator who says so.

09 Bowls, Feeders & Water Fountains

WHY IT EARNS	Cheap to buy, easy to demonstrate, and the fastest-converting 'small win' in the niche. Slow feeders, lick mats and water fountains all produce an immediate visible behaviour change on camera.
WHO BUYS	Broad — anyone with a fast eater, a fussy drinker, or a bored pet. Very low purchase friction at the ₹300–900 price band.
BUYING TRIGGER	Dog vomits after eating. Dog eats in nine seconds. Cat won't drink water. Ants in the food.
KEYWORDS	slow feeder bowl india · best water fountain for cats india · elevated dog bowl india · lick mat for dogs india · automatic pet feeder india · anti ant pet bowl
HOOKS	• My dog ate in nine seconds. This ₹399 bowl fixed it. • Cats drink twice as much from moving water. Seven-day test. • A lick mat buys you twenty minutes of silence.
THE CATCH	Best category for a beginner's first ten Reels: cheap to buy, easy to film, instant result, low return rate.

10 Senior Pet Care & Supplements

WHY IT EARNS	The 2015–2020 Indian adoption wave is now ageing into its senior years, and virtually nobody is serving this audience. High order value (orthopedic beds, ramps, joint supplements) and extremely loyal, high-intent readers.
WHO BUYS	Pet parents 30–50 with a 9+ year old dog or 11+ year old cat. Emotionally invested, willing to spend, and desperate for credible information.
BUYING TRIGGER	Dog struggling with stairs. Slower on walks. Incontinence. Vet mentioned arthritis. Weight loss.
KEYWORDS	joint supplement for dogs india · orthopedic dog bed india · dog ramp for stairs india · senior dog food india · dog diapers india · signs of arthritis in dogs
HOOKS	• Signs of pain that dog parents consistently miss. • He stopped using the sofa. It wasn't age — it was his hips. • Which joint supplements have actual evidence behind them, and which don't.
THE CATCH	The clearest under-served gap in Indian pet content today. Requires the most careful medical language — no diagnosis, no dosage, vet disclaimer on every page — but the least competition of any category here.

Who you are writing for

Seven distinct buyers. Most Indian pet content is written for exactly one of them — the English-speaking metro dog parent — which is why the other six are commercially interesting.

The Panicked New Puppy Parent

22–32 · METRO / TIER-1 · SPENDS ₹8,000–20,000 IN THE FIRST MONTH, THEN ₹3,000–5,000/MO

Brought a puppy home in the last 60 days. Buying in a panic, over-buying, and returning things. Googles everything at 1am.

BUYS Starter checklists, puppy food, crate, pee pads, toys, collar, deworming, training treats

REACH THEM Instagram Reels and Google 'how do I' searches. Highest lifetime value of any persona — win them in week one and they buy from you for a decade.

DON'T Do not lead with premium products. Lead with 'what you actually need versus what the store will upsell you'.

The First-Time Kitten Parent

20–30, WOMEN-SKEWED · METRO RENTALS · SPENDS ₹4,000–9,000 SETUP, THEN ₹1,500–3,000/MO

Often adopted an Indie or rescue kitten rather than buying. Space-constrained, landlord-conscious, smell-conscious.

BUYS Litter, litter box, scratcher, wet food, wand toys, water fountain, carrier

REACH THEM Instagram and Pinterest. Highly responsive to aesthetic, small-space and 'rental-friendly' framing.

DON'T Do not assume a house with a yard. Every recommendation must work in a 1BHK.

The Premium Trade-Up Parent

30–45 · METRO, INCOME ₹15L+ · SPENDS ₹6,000–15,000/MO

Second or third year of pet parenting. Has moved past 'cheapest' and is actively buying better — imported food, orthopedic beds, smart tech.

BUYS Premium and fresh food, supplements, orthopedic beds, smart tech, grooming tools, insurance

REACH THEM YouTube long-form and detailed blog comparisons. Reads before buying. Wants specifications, tests and honest downsides.

DON'T Thin content kills trust with this group instantly. They will check whether you actually own the product.

The Value-First Parent (Tier 2–3)

24–40 · TIER 2 / TIER 3 CITIES · SPENDS ₹800–2,500/MO

The largest and fastest-growing group by volume. Hard budget ceiling, buys on offers, heavy WhatsApp and YouTube user.

BUYS Value dog food, basic collar, shampoo, deworming, cheap toys, home remedies

REACH THEM YouTube (often in Hindi or regional language) and WhatsApp forwards. Enormously under-served by English metro content.

DON'T Never recommend a ₹6,000 bed to this group. 'Under ₹500' and 'under ₹1,000' framing converts.

The Indie & Community Feeder

25–45 · ALL CITIES · SPENDS ₹2,000–6,000/MO, SPREAD ACROSS MANY ANIMALS

Feeds or fosters street dogs and cats. Buys in bulk, prioritises cost per kilo, deeply engaged and highly vocal community.

BUYS Bulk food, deworming, tick control, basic first aid, reflective collars, feeding bowls

REACH THEM Instagram community and Facebook groups. Lower order value but exceptional shares and saves — the best amplification audience you have.

DON'T Never treat Indies as second-class. Indie-specific content is under-served and earns enormous goodwill.

The Apartment / No-Yard Parent

25–40 · HIGH-DENSITY URBAN · SPENDS ₹3,000–6,000/MO

Every problem is a space or a neighbour problem — barking complaints, no place to toilet, no room to burn energy.

BUYS Pee pads, indoor grass, enrichment and puzzle toys, balcony nets, anti-bark training, odour control, gates

REACH THEM Instagram Reels solving one specific space problem. 'In a 1BHK' is the single highest-performing phrase in this niche.

DON'T Generic advice written for American backyards. Rewrite everything for 600 square feet.

The Senior Pet Parent

30–50 · METRO / TIER-1 · SPENDS ₹5,000–12,000/MO, RISING

Pet is 9+ years old. Emotionally invested, spending more than ever, and finding almost no Indian content for this stage.

BUYS Joint supplements, orthopedic beds, ramps, senior food, diapers, mobility aids, vet plans

REACH THEM Google search and long-form YouTube. Low volume, very high intent, almost zero competition.

DON'T Anything that reads as medical advice. Route to a vet on every page — and say so plainly.

The hook bank

Forty-eight hooks across eight formats, all written for this niche and this market. Use them as written, or swap the product and keep the structure — the structure is what does the work.

PROBLEM-FIRST (HIGHEST CTR IN THIS NICHE)

- Your house doesn't smell like your cat. It smells like your litter.
- Your dog isn't naughty. He's under-stimulated, and it takes 15 minutes to fix.
- Your cat isn't ruining the sofa. The scratcher is in the wrong place.
- Your dog pulls because of the collar, not because of the training.
- If your dog vomits after eating, it's the bowl.
- If your cat won't drink water, it's not the water. It's that it isn't moving.

PRICE CONTRAST

- ₹18 a day versus ₹95 a day dog food. Here's what actually changes.
- ₹800 bed versus ₹6,000 orthopedic bed. Thirty days later.
- ₹250 grooming kit versus ₹2,500. Is it worth it?
- ₹40,000 litter box versus a ₹1,200 tray. Honest verdict.
- Everything my puppy needed, under ₹5,000. Full list.
- What one Indie dog actually costs per month. Real numbers.

MISTAKE / WARNING

- Nine out of ten new cat parents get the litter depth wrong.
- Three things in your first-aid box that are unsafe for pets.
- Never use human shampoo on your dog. Here's what it does.
- Found one tick? There are hundreds you can't see.
- The step everyone skips when treating fleas: the house.
- Five things the pet store will upsell you that you do not need.

BEFORE / AFTER AND SATISFYING

- This came off a Golden in ten minutes.
- Blacklight test: this is what your 'clean' floor actually looks like.
- Crate training, day 1 versus day 5.
- Cat harness training, day 1 versus day 10.
- Potty training in a flat, day 1 to day 14.
- I gave my cat vertical space. Watch what changed.

TEST / PROOF (BUILDS AUTHORITY FASTEST)

- I tested six 'indestructible' toys on a Labrador.
- I tried every cat litter sold in India. Cost per month for each.
- Does an AirTag actually work to find a lost dog in India?
- Water fountain versus bowl. Seven-day intake test.
- Does a compression vest actually calm an anxious dog? Two weeks.
- Three pet gadgets I returned, and why.

MYTH-BUSTING

- 'Chicken flavour' is not chicken. Let's read the label.
- Which joint supplements have actual evidence, and which don't.
- Grain-free is not automatically better. Here's when it matters.
- Trainers hate retractable leashes. They're right.
- Your dog does not need a sweater. Unless it's one of these breeds.
- Coconut oil does not treat mange. Here's what does.

LIST / SPEED

- Five cat toys under ₹300 that actually get used.
- Fourteen things in a pet first-aid kit for an Indian home.
- Twenty-seven things to buy before your puppy comes home.
- Post-walk paw routine in five minutes.
- Airline pet rules in India, in forty seconds.
- Bed sizing: measure your dog in fifteen seconds.

POV / EMOTIONAL

- POV: it's your first night with a puppy and nobody warned you.
- This is what fireworks sound like to your dog.
- Signs of pain that dog parents consistently miss.
- My eleven-year-old dog's daily routine.
- He stopped using the sofa. It wasn't age. It was his hips.
- Things I'd never buy again for my dog.

SIX RULES THAT MATTER MORE THAN THE HOOKS

- ❑ The first three seconds decide everything. Name the problem or show the result — never introduce yourself.
- ❑ One Reel, one product problem. Two products is two Reels.
- ❑ Say the price out loud on video, but never write a price in a blog post as fact — link to the live listing instead (and note that Amazon's terms prohibit stating prices outside their approved tools).
- ❑ Track saves and shares, not likes. Saves are the buying-intent signal, and they are what the algorithm rewards.
- ❑ Put the affiliate link where the audience already is: bio link-in-bio for Instagram, pinned comment plus description for YouTube, and inline in blog posts. Never bury it.
- ❑ Repeat winning hooks with a different product. If a hook format works, it will work five more times.

SECTION 07

The repurposing engine

Nine published assets a week is not nine ideas a week. Research three topics, produce nine assets. This is the single mechanism that decides whether the calendar survives past week three.

→ 1 blog post	The parent asset. Research once. 1,500–2,500 words, comparison table, clear 'best for' verdicts, affiliate links on every product mention plus one in the first 200 words.
→ 2 Instagram Reels	Reel A: the single strongest hook from the post, 15–25s. Reel B: the comparison or the before/after, 20–35s. Both end on 'full list in bio'.
→ 1 YouTube Short	The most instructive 30–45 seconds. Different hook wording from the Reels so the two platforms don't feel like reposts. Affiliate link in the description and pinned comment.
→ 5 Pinterest Pins	One vertical image per product plus one for the comparison table. Keyword-rich titles and descriptions, all pointing at the blog post. Twenty minutes total, and the highest-ROI twenty minutes in this plan.
→ 1 Instagram carousel	Slide 1 the hook, slides 2–6 one product each with price band and 'best for', slide 7 the CTA. Carousels get saved far more than Reels, and saves are the buying signal.
→ 1 WhatsApp broadcast	Two lines and one link. Send only when there is a genuine offer or a genuinely useful list — this channel dies fast if abused.
→ 1 Story set	Three to five frames with a poll or question sticker, plus the link sticker. Feeds the algorithm and generates the research questions for next week's content.

THE WEEKLY RHYTHM

Sunday: pick three topics, write the shot list, buy or borrow any products needed. Monday: shoot everything for the week in one two-to-three hour block — all Reels, all Shorts, all Pin images. Tuesday to Thursday: write the blog posts. Friday: edit and schedule the whole week. Saturday: engagement only — reply to every comment and DM, because early-stage reach comes from conversation. One shoot day, one edit day. Never film daily; that is what kills content plans.

Week 0 — Pre-Launch

Do this in the seven days before Day 1. It is the difference between launching with a site and launching with an empty shell.

FOUNDATION

- ☐ Lock the niche positioning in one sentence: who it's for, which pets, which country, what promise.
- ☐ Domain + hosting live. Fast theme, mobile-first, under 2.5s load on 4G.
- ☐ Pages published: About, Contact, Privacy Policy, Affiliate Disclosure, Editorial Policy.
- ☐ Google Analytics 4 + Google Search Console verified. Sitemap submitted.
- ☐ Affiliate link management plugin or redirect setup so links can be swapped in one place later.

MONETISATION

- ☐ Amazon.in Associates application submitted (needs a live site with real content — this is why Week 0 exists).
- ☐ Cuelinks and EarnKaro accounts created — these give access to Flipkart, Supertails, Zigly and HUFT without individual approvals.
- ☐ Shortlist and save 30 hero product links across the Tier A categories.
- ☐ Decide the primary merchant per category using the flat-fee versus percentage logic on the monetisation page.

CONTENT BANK

- ☐ Five cornerstone posts written and scheduled to go live on Day 1: New Puppy Checklist · New Kitten Checklist · Best Dog Food in India · Best Cat Litter in India · Monthly Cost of Keeping a Dog in India.
- ☐ Brand kit: two fonts, three colours, one caption template, one thumbnail template, one Reel outro.
- ☐ Twenty B-roll clips banked (own pets, licensed stock, or brand-supplied) so no day is blocked on footage.
- ☐ Keyword sheet started — 100 keywords minimum, columns per the research brief at the end of this document.

CHANNELS

- ☐ Instagram, YouTube and Pinterest handles claimed with the same name. Bios written with a single link-in-bio.
- ☐ Instagram bio link tool set up with a category-wise product list page.
- ☐ WhatsApp Channel or broadcast list created for the lead magnet.
- ☐ Follow 50 accounts in the niche; save 30 competitor Reels with their hooks logged.

WHY WEEK 0 IS NOT OPTIONAL

Amazon Associates will not approve an empty site, and a visitor who lands on a one-post blog does not come back. Five posts live on Day 1 solves both problems, and it front-loads the Month-1 post count so the 15–20 target is comfortable rather than desperate.

The 90-day calendar

Thirteen weeks, Day 1 to Day 91, every publishing slot filled with a specific deliverable. Blog titles are written to be published as-is. Sundays in Months 1 and 2 are deliberately kept free of publishing — that is the review and planning slot, and removing it is the fastest way to burn out.

OUTPUT AFTER 91 DAYS

31 blog posts (36 with Week 0) · 62 Instagram Reels · 26 YouTube Shorts · 2 long-form YouTube videos · 4 Sunday roundups · roughly 180 Pinterest Pins · 31 carousels. Three formal audits at Day 35, Day 63 and Day 91.

Affiliate programs & the monetisation maths

Rates verified against published schedules in August 2026. All of them change without notice — check your own dashboard before quoting a rate in any content or client report.

PROGRAM	RATE	COOKIE	NOTES
Amazon.in Associates	4.7% on Pet Products (Aug 2026 fee schedule)	24 hours	Widest catalogue and the highest buyer trust in India. But 4.7% of a ₹900 litter order is ₹42. Note: prescription pet medication earns 0%, and Amazon's terms restrict quoting prices outside their approved tools.
Flipkart	Up to ~12%, category-dependent	30 min direct / up to 24h via networks	Direct sign-ups are frequently paused. Join through Cuelinks, EarnKaro or Admitad instead — you also get a much longer tracking window, which matters for higher-value orders.
Supertails	~₹250–400 flat per qualifying new-customer order	~30 days	Flat fee, which makes it dramatically better than percentage programs on low-value repeat items like litter, treats and food. Access via EarnKaro or Cuelinks.
Heads Up For Tails	~5–6% flat	~30 days	Strong brand recognition and higher average order value, especially on beds, accessories and apparel. Good fit for the premium-parent persona.
Zigly	Advertised up to ~32% on selected products	~30 days	The headline rate is product- and cohort-dependent — verify in the dashboard before you build content around it. Worth testing because the upside is large if it holds.
Cuelinks / EarnKaro / Admitad / vCommission	Varies by merchant	Varies	Aggregators. One login gives access to dozens of Indian pet merchants without applying to each. Start here on Day 1 — approval is fast and it removes the Amazon-approval bottleneck.
Brand direct — Wiggles, Drools, Captain Zack, Farmina	Negotiable, often 8–15%	Varies	Worth approaching directly once you have 90 days of traffic data. Direct deals also unlock free product for reviews, which is what unlocks the Smart Tech and high-AOV categories.
Services — pet insurance, vet teleconsult, DNA tests	₹100–1,500 per lead or signup	Varies	Highest payout per conversion in the whole list, and almost nobody in Indian pet content is promoting them. Pays on a lead, not a purchase, so the conversion bar is much lower.

THE MATHS THAT CHANGES EVERYTHING

The one calculation that should shape every product link you place. A ₹1,200 cat litter order pays roughly ₹56 on Amazon at 4.7%. The same order through a flat-fee program like Supertails can pay ₹250–400 for a new customer — five to seven times more. So: route low-value, high-repeat items (litter, treats, food, poop bags) to flat-fee programs, and route high-value or long-tail items (₹15,000 self-cleaning litter box, obscure brands, anything where Prime delivery closes the sale) to Amazon. Put both links on the page — 'Buy on Amazon' and 'Buy on Supertails' — and let the reader choose. You get paid either way, and conversion goes up because you removed a decision.

Disclosure, compliance & risk

Six rules. The first two protect the income; the third protects against something worse. None of this is optional and all of it takes about ten minutes a week to get right.

01 Disclosure is not optional, and it goes first

India's ASCI influencer guidelines require disclosure that is upfront and unmissable — in the first two lines of a caption, as an on-screen label held for at least three seconds in video, and clearly worded (#ad, #affiliate, 'paid link'). Burying it at the end of a caption or in a hashtag block does not comply.

02 Amazon has its own specific wording

Amazon Associates requires the statement 'As an Amazon Associate I earn from qualifying purchases' on any page or channel carrying their links. Their terms also prohibit using affiliate links in email, PDFs and (in practice) closed messaging, and restrict quoting prices outside their approved tools. Read the Operating Agreement once, properly — accounts get closed for these, and closure is usually permanent.

03 Health content is the biggest risk in this niche

Anything touching illness, dosage, medication or diagnosis is high-stakes both legally and for search rankings. Rules to hold to: never diagnose, never state a dosage, never recommend a prescription medication, always name the vet as the decision-maker, and put a visible disclaimer block on every health page. This also protects the site from Google's quality assessments of health content.

04 Don't claim a test you didn't run

'I tested six toys' is the highest-converting content format in this plan — and the fastest way to lose an audience if it isn't true. If the product wasn't used, frame it as 'what to look for' or 'what reviewers report' instead. Audiences in this niche are unusually good at detecting fake reviews.

05 Use images you have the right to use

Brand product photos, other creators' clips and stock without a licence are all liability. Shoot your own, use properly licensed stock, or use the brand's official affiliate creative assets.

06 Keep prices out of evergreen copy

Prices move constantly in Indian e-commerce. Use price bands ('₹800–1,200') in blog posts and let the live link carry the exact figure. Speaking a price out loud on video is fine; hard-coding it in an evergreen post creates a credibility problem within weeks.

Targets worth measuring

Output targets are commitments. Revenue targets are ranges, and the range is wide because this niche is genuinely unpredictable at small scale.

PHASE	OUTPUT	SESSIONS/DAY	IG FOLLOWERS	YT SUBS	COMMISSION	WHAT ACTUALLY MATTERS THIS MONTH
Month 1	15 blogs (20 with Week 0) · 20 Reels · 10 Shorts	0–50/day, almost all social	500–2,000	0–300	₹0 – 2,000	Reels published on schedule · saves per Reel · which two categories produced the most saves
Month 2	8 blogs · 22 Reels · 8 Shorts · 2 long videos	50–250/day, social + first Pinterest	2,000–6,000	300–1,200	₹1,500 – 10,000	Affiliate link CTR · earnings per post · YouTube average view duration · Search Console impression curve starting to lift
Month 3	8 blogs · 26 Reels · 8 Shorts · 2 long videos · 4 roundups	150–600/day, Pinterest becoming material	5,000–15,000	1,000–4,000	₹6,000 – 30,000	Revenue per 1,000 sessions · top three categories by revenue · WhatsApp list size · repeat-visitor share

CALIBRATION

Read these as ranges, not promises. They assume no paid promotion and no existing audience. The variance in this niche is extreme — one Reel that reaches a million views can beat the entire rest of the quarter, and it is normal for months one and two to look like nothing is working while the assets quietly accumulate. The number to watch is not revenue in Month 1. It is whether the publishing schedule was actually met, and whether saves per Reel are trending up.

THE SIX LEADING INDICATORS

Saves + shares per Reel	The buying-intent signal, and what the algorithm actually rewards. Likes are noise.
Affiliate link click-through rate	Per post. Under 2% means the links are badly placed or the products don't match intent.
Earnings per post (EPC)	Total commission divided by clicks, per post. This is what tells you which categories to scale.
YouTube average view duration	Under 30% on Shorts means the hook failed. Fix the first three seconds, not the topic.
Search Console impressions	Will move long before clicks do. Rising impressions in month two is the signal that the SEO investment is working, even at zero traffic.
Pinterest outbound clicks	The earliest real traffic source for a new site in this niche. Check weekly.

The Indian pet seasonality calendar

Pet buying in India is intensely seasonal. Fixing the launch date against this calendar is worth more than any individual piece of content in the plan.

MONTH	WHAT DRIVES BUYING	CATEGORIES TO PUSH
Jan	Winter wear (North India), New Year adoption spike, 'new pet' checklist searches peak	Apparel · Beds · Starter kits
Feb	Shedding begins as weather warms. Feb 20 — Love Your Pet Day	Grooming · Deshedding tools
Mar	Summer prep, shedding peaks, heat begins in the South and West	Cooling · Grooming · Water fountains
Apr–May	Peak summer. Paw burns, dehydration, heat stress. Tick season opens. Apr 11 — National Pet Day	Cooling mats · Fountains · Paw balm · Flea & tick
Jun–Aug	MONSOON — the biggest pet-problem season in India. Ticks and fleas peak, fungal skin infections, wet-dog odour, muddy paws, indoor boredom. Aug 8 International Cat Day, Aug 26 International Dog Day	Flea & tick · Anti-fungal shampoo · Raincoats · Paw care · Odour control · Indoor enrichment
Sep	Post-monsoon skin and ear problems. Ganesh Chaturthi noise. Sale-season content prep starts	Grooming · Ear care · Calming
Oct–Nov	THE REVENUE WINDOW. Amazon Great Indian Festival and Flipkart Big Billion Days — the highest-earning three weeks of the affiliate year. Diwali fireworks anxiety. Festive outfits. Gifting	Everything · Calming & anxiety · Apparel · Smart tech · High-AOV
Dec	Winter wear, heating pads, Christmas gifting, year-end 'best of' and 'what I'd buy again' content	Apparel · Warming · Gifting · Lifestyle

HIGHEST-LEVERAGE DECISION IN THIS DOCUMENT

If the 90-day window overlaps late September to early November, rewrite the plan around it. The Great Indian Festival and Big Billion Days sale period will out-earn everything else combined. Build deal-comparison and 'best offers' content three weeks in advance, have every product link pre-placed, and publish daily during the sale.

Research brief — five deliverables

This is the part to hand over directly. Each deliverable has a deadline, a defined output, and the tools to produce it. Everything here can be done on free tools.

Deliverable 1 — Keyword sheet (by Day 7)

Three hundred India-targeted keywords in one spreadsheet. Columns: keyword · monthly volume (India) · difficulty · intent (informational / commercial / transactional) · category from the master list · target URL · current top-3 results · best affiliate program for that keyword · notes. Sort by commercial intent and low difficulty — that sorted list is the blog calendar for months four to six.

TOOLS & SOURCES

- Google Keyword Planner (free with any Ads account)
- Google Search Console once the site has data
- Ahrefs free keyword generator · Ubersuggest free tier
- AnswerThePublic for question-shaped keywords
- Google Trends set to India, with state-level breakdown
- Amazon.in and Flipkart search autocomplete — the purest commercial-intent source there is
- Instagram, YouTube and Pinterest search suggestions

Deliverable 2 — Competitor teardown (by Day 10)

Ten competitors: five Indian pet blogs and five Indian pet Instagram or YouTube channels. For each, log their top ten pages or posts, which categories they cover well, which they ignore entirely, which affiliate programs they use, and their posting frequency. The gaps are the opportunity — and based on the category analysis in this document, expect the gaps to be senior pet care, home odour control, smart tech and cat furniture.

TOOLS & SOURCES

- Ubersuggest or Ahrefs free site overview for top pages
- Instagram: sort profile by 'most viewed' Reels
- YouTube: sort channel by 'most popular'
- Save 30 competitor Reels with hook, first three seconds, and CTA logged

Deliverable 3 — Category validation scores (by Day 14)

Score all 28 categories from the master list, one to five, on four axes: search demand in India · rupees earned per sale · reel-ability (can the benefit be shown in eight seconds?) · competition. Multiply demand × rupees-per-sale × reel-ability, divide by competition. That ranking, not intuition, decides what gets published in months four to six.

TOOLS & SOURCES

- Use the scorecard in this document as the starting hypothesis, then verify with real keyword data
- Check actual commission per sale in each affiliate dashboard rather than trusting published rates
- Reddit — r/IndianPets, r/india, r/CatAdvice, r/Dogtraining — for real problem language in the audience's own words
- Quora India and Indian pet Facebook groups for the same reason

Deliverable 4 — Hero SKU price tracker (ongoing, weekly)

Twenty hero products across the Tier A categories, price-checked weekly across Amazon, Flipkart, Supertails and Zigly. Affiliate content lives or dies on price accuracy — a post recommending a product that is now out of stock or 40% more expensive loses the reader permanently.

TOOLS & SOURCES

- A simple Google Sheet with a weekly manual check is enough at this scale
- Flag any product that goes out of stock and swap the link the same day
- Note which merchant is cheapest per product — that is the link that should be first on the page

Deliverable 5 — Weekly one-page report (every Sunday)

One page, same format every week: what was published · top three assets by saves and by clicks · bottom three · affiliate clicks and earnings · one thing to change next week. If a report takes more than twenty minutes to produce, it is too detailed to be useful.

TOOLS & SOURCES

- Google Analytics 4 for sessions and link clicks
- Affiliate dashboards for clicks, orders and earnings
- Instagram and YouTube native analytics for saves, shares and retention
- Keep every week's report in one document so trends are visible at a glance

IN CLOSING

The plan the freelancer built is fundamentally sound — the cadence is realistic for one person, the ramp from broad to focused is right, and the shift from blog-heavy to video-heavy matches where attention actually is in India. The changes in this document are additions, not corrections: five weeks of Month-1 cadence instead of four so the post target is actually reachable, Pinterest added because it is the only organic channel that can produce results inside 90 days, a repurposing rule so nine assets a week comes from three research sessions, twelve product categories added to the list (led by food, which was the notable omission and is the largest revenue pool in the market), and realistic expectations for what search traffic will and will not do in the first quarter.
